THE TWO BUILDERS.

Two men, a Chinese legend runs,
Once found that each must build A house, and each in building was An artisan most skilled.
But one thought of the days of work
And weary was at heart;
The other thought not of the toil,
But how 'twere best to start.
The one knelt down before his boss,
With countenance dismayed;
He asked the boss to build the house
And prayed and prayed and prayed.
The other gathered up his tools
And straight the task assailed;
He hewed the joists and hung the doors
And nailed and nailed and nailed.
The one prayed on before his boss
Through all the weary while;
The boss peered from the altar smoke
With something like a smile.
The other, when he built his house,
Took all the extra planks
And burned them at the boss' feet,
An offering of thanks.
The one looked up from where he knelt
And cried: "Oh, wretched man!
You did not wait for holy aid;
You were a wicked plan."
The other smiled and answered him,
"I'd not ask boss to bless
A quality that might be termed
As simple laziness."
The beauty of the legend is
That it may be applied
To any work we may attempt
Or any faith beside;
For asking Providence to do
Some toll which we would shrink
Is apt to teach a lazy man
The usefulness of work.

MAYSICK'S MISFORTUNE.

Big Blaze Raged There Yesterday—Town Threatened.

Flames Gotten Under Control, After Burning Nearly Two Hours—Losses and Insurance.

Shortly after 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon fire was discovered in the livery stable of Patrick Ryan at Mayslick, and before many minutes the people of that little town were fighting one of the worst conflagrations that had ever visited there.

There was a wind favorable to spreading the flames, and one by one the nearby buildings caught.

The property destroyed and damaged, as nearly as could be gotten, with losses and insurance, is given below—

Patrick Ryan's livery stable, $5,000; insured for $600.

William Worthington's livery stable, machine shop and farm implements, $3,000.

Herbert Ousley, hotel, saloon, blacksmith shop, $2,500; insured for $750.

I. O. O. F. Hall, $3,500; insured for $2,000.

The K. P.'s also lost considerable.

Scott Collins, undertaker, $2,000; no insurance.

Bank of Mayslick, damaged $800; covered by $2,500 insurance.

Dwelling belonging to I. O. O. F., loss total.

William Hutchison, residence, loss $900; no insurance.

Mrs. McLaughlin, residence; loss $1,000.

Young's Hotel, damaged $600; insured.

Thomas P. Hopper, damaged $1,200; insured.

George Weber's blacksmith shop, $800; no
insurance.

James M. Myall lost several hundred dollars worth of feed in Ryan's stable.

Mrs. Annie Wilson's handsome stable was badly damaged; insured.

Mrs. Josh Cleary's residence sustained a loss of several hundred dollars.

The Maysville Telephone Company had several poles burned, but in a remarkably short while the line was fully restored, Dr. Edwin Matthews of this city, the Manager, being promptly on the grounds.

Mrs. M. Young, proprietress Young's Hotel, was badly burned about face and hands.

William Robb was severely cut with broken glass.

It was thought for a time that the whole town would go, and only the change of the strong wind saved it.

This was the most disastrous fire that ever occurred in the town.

In 1876 at least one-third of the town burned, but it was not comparable to yesterday's disaster.

GRADUATING EXERCISES!

Commencement of Maysville High School at the Opera-House.

That the people have a keen interest in the welfare of the Public School system of this city was clearly manifested last evening by the magnificent audience which witnessed the Commencement Exercises of the Maysville High School at Washington Opera-house.

Within a few hours after the box sheet opened on Wednesday the last seat in the house was taken and the friends of the graduates and teachers were highly pleased with the evening's program.

The stage of the Opera-house looked unusually pretty in its draping in the class colors, orange and blue, with 1903, the year which marked an important period in thirteen young lives, suspended from the center.

The class was made up of six young ladies and seven young men and in their individual parts reflected due credit upon themselves and their instructors.

Presentation of Diplomas and Scholarships.....
Hon. Clarence L. Sallee, President of Board of Education.

The fan drill was from an artistic standpoint very much a success, different from the usual march which opens the exercises.

The essays and orations, delivered by each pupil without reference to original papers, were given clearly and distinctly, the subject-matter of a character to interest the vast audience.

Each showed thought and study, "On the Rappahannock," with orchestral accompaniment, deserving special mention for the impression it made on all.

Miss Blanche Styles, who by the way has been engaged to teach in the county the coming session, was selected as the class prophet, and told her hearers the probable future of her classmates.

This was the first Commencement under the new regime, and the Board of Education were gratified at this excellent showing.

A short address was made by Mr. Clarence L. Sallee, President of the Board, who delivered the diplomas to the graduates.

The standing of some of the graduates in their classes was far above the average. Miss Nash carried off first honors, with a grade of 99, Mr. Wilkes coming second with 98. Misses Redmond and Styles also were mentioned for their good work.

The awarding of the scholarships was deferred until some future time, the announcement to be made through the papers.

The teachers, Misses Metcalf, Greenwood and Stone and Prof. Regenstein worked hard for their Commencement and were proud of its success.

FRED BODE.

Mr. Fred Bode died at 9:30 yesterday morning, after an extended illness from consumption.

He was 43 years of age and leaves three sisters.

Mr. Bode was a member of the German Relief Society, the P. O. S. A. and the Washington Fire Company.

2 o'clock from the home of Jacob Cablish in Forest avenue, and the interment will be in

SUDDENLY STRICKEN.

Mr. James W. Staton of Brooksville
Paralyzed at Paris.

Mr. James W. Staton of Brooksville, Past Grand Master of Kentucky Masons, who was Wednesday a guest at the laying of the cornerstone of the Paris Courthouse, was stricken with paralysis while seated at the banquet table, shortly after 12 o'clock Wednesday night, and is not expected to live.

He was immediately removed to the home of Colonel Dan W. Peed, where he lies in an unconscious and critical condition.

Mr. Staton went to Paris Wednesday, and after the Courthouse ceremonies, the Masonic Lodge conferred the Third Degree for the benefit of the Past Grand Master and other distinguished visitors.

The work was followed by a banquet in the Lodgeroom, and it was while seated at this banquet that he was suddenly stricken.

Mr. Staton was one of the best known Masons in the State. Besides being Past Grand Master he was Past Grand High Priest, and was one of the few Thirty-third Degree Masons in Kentucky.

He is upwards of 70 years of age, seemingly in perfect health, and until the time he was stricken was in the full enjoyment of his physical and mental faculties.

His Last Hope Realized.

From The Sentinel, Gila, Montana.

In the first opening of Oklahoma to settlers in 1890 the Editor of this paper was among the many seekers after fortune who made the big race one day in April. During his traveling about and afterwards his camping upon his claim he encountered men had water, which, together with the severe heat, gave him a very severe diarrhea, which it seemed almost impossible to check, and along in June the case became so bad he expected to die. One day one of his neighbors brought him one small bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhea Remedy as a last hope. A big dose was given him while he was rolling about on the ground in great agony, and in a few minutes the disease was repeated. The good effect of the medicine was soon noticed and within an hour the patient was taking his first sound sleep for a fortnight. That one little bottle worked a complete cure and he cannot help but feel grateful. The season for bowel disorders being at hand suggests this item. For sale by Jas. J. Wood & Son, Druggists.

that we would soon tire of advertising "Money Back or Another Pair if the Pair You Buy of Us Proves Unsatisfactory," we continue and always will sell we buy the best Shoes in the world and sell them at legitimate prices; second,

The Allegheny and Monongahela rivers are falling again.

The Rees Lee arrived at Cincinnati with a big freight and two days ahead of her schedule time.

Considerable rain has fallen in the Allegheny and Monongahela valleys, but it is not expected to produce enough water for a coal shipment.

Nearly every barge and flatboat in the Pittsburgh harbor has been loaded with either coal or rails, and the next shipment is expected to break all records.

Nearly every boat in the Pittsburgh harbor has undergone repairs, which were badly needed, and they are now prepared to go out in a continuous string, should the June rise arrive in the near future.

The Government Lightship Tender Goldenrod arrived at Cincinnati Wednesday. She has completed a survey of the lights and danger signals of the Fort Meigs Light House District, which includes the Ohio and all of its tributaries.

The coal companies have hopes of amassing 25,000,000 bushels of coal, but it cannot be expected to get this shipment out on one rise on account of there not being enough boats. The largest shipment ever made was that of last year when it took a full month to ship 30,000,000 bushels.

The Ohio Valley Improvement Association held a meeting in the office of the Cincinnati and Pittsburgh Packet Company at Cincinnati Wednesday. The usual routine business was transacted. One of the features of the meeting was a letter from Colonel John L. Vance, President of the Association, which told of the meetings that were being held up the river in the interest of the improvement of the stream under the lock and dam system.

This famous remedy does for the stomach what which it is unable to do for itself, even if but slightly disordered or overburdened.

Kodol supplies the natural juices of digestion and does the work of the stomach, relaxing the nervous tension, while the inflamed muscles and membranes of that organ are allowed to rest and heal. It cures indigestion, flatulence, palpitation of the heart, nervous dyspepsia and all stomach troubles by cleansing, purifying and strengthening the glands, membranes of the stomach and digestive organs.

HOME TESTIMONY FOR HOME PEOPLE.

When you are asked to take the word of someone unknown and at a distance as to the value of an article it requires a stretch of faith. When you are told that someone in your own town—some- one whom you know or can go and verify the statement—says the article is all it is claimed to be, it gives it at once the stamp of honesty. This is the principal reason why Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills. Home testimony for home people.

Mr. R. H. Wallace of No. 28 East Front street, Maysville, Ky., says:

"I have been for a long time troubled with severe nervousness, dizziness, sleeplessness and indigestion. Having read in the papers of Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills I thought I would try them. I got a box at Chenoweth's Drugstore and am pleased to say my nerves are strong and steady again—I sleep well— am no longer bothered with those dizzy spells and my appetite and digestion are splendid. I am able as a conse- quence to recommend the medicine very highly to others who suffer in a like manner."

So a box at dealers or Dr. A. W. Chase Medicine Co., Buffalo, N. Y. See that portrait and signature of A. W. Chase, M. D., are on every package.
